DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-10, drawn to a polarizing plate, classified in class 349, subclass 96.
  - II. Claims 11-26, drawn to a liquid crystal display (LCD) device, classified in class 349, subclass 60.
  - III. Claims 27-40, drawn to a method of fabricating an LCD device, classified in class 349, subclass 187.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because it does not require a diffusion layer on one surface of the polarizing layer. The subcombination has separate utility such as a number displays including active matrix, passive matrix, plasma, and DLP displays, as well as non-display devices such as optical switches and waveguide modulators.

Inventions III and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the method of Invention III requires the formation a diffusion layer on one surface and placing the polarizer below the lower substrate above the backlight, whereas the device of Invention II has a first and second polarizing plate, with the first on the upper substrate.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Groups I, II and III are separate, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. If Group I is elected, this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

(1) the specifics of the polarizing plate comprising a light-diffusion layer on one surface comprising a first embodiment corresponding to claims 1-5;

(2) the specifics of the polarizing plate comprising a light diffusion layer, passivation layers, a CLC layer, a phase shift layer, and a second polarizing layer comprising a second embodiment corresponding to claims 6-10.

5. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
